$1.00 PER YEAR.

LOCALETS

A representative crowd being already assembled to hear the count of the vote at the night of the election, advantage was taken of the occasion to discuss the promotion of a skating rink. The result was the organization of the Lomond Rink Club with the following officers: L. M. Swain, president, J. H. Williamson, vice-president, C. H. St. John, secretary-treasurer, with Duke Armstrong and Frank Brown as an additional advisory to the above-mentioned executive.

The club membership was set at five dollars and when the cost of a season skating or curling ticket is determined full credit will be allowed to the amount of membership on the price of the ticket. Fourteen memberships were signed up at the meeting.

W. A. Teskey and Duke Armstrong volunteered to make level the grounds and set to work on Wednesday with the Samson and plow, while W. H. Smith pulled in with the little Cleveland and smoothed things off. The gang is erecting a windbreak on the west side and every day frosts will be that is required. The grounds selected are just south of the Associated Farmers west yard. It is proposed to get a couple of granaries and warm things up a bit. Accommodations will be made for the men who roll the stones as well as Goldsmith's "whispering lovers".

Mrs. A. Greenwood was up from Retlaw on Monday.

Shorty Webster was over from Bassano for a few days this week, coming down with C. R. Adams on his way home from the north ranch Sunday.

Lomond has been wide open this last few days, and they all try to get high-powered results out of this high-priced "stormy-petrol". How long, how long must we continue thus?

Mr. Nutter, recently night agent at Bassano, took over the local depot duties Wednesday morning.

Tiny Lawson and family bid the West farewell on Wednesday morning and took their departure for the effete East.

An interesting affair was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Munro last Friday evening, it being the christening of their infant son and also the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bensen. Rev. A. T. Bell performed the ceremony. A dainty lunch was served and the evening pleasantly spent playing cards, etc.

Among those invited were Mr. and Mrs. V. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. H. Finley, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. F. Newton, Mr. Ainlay, Mr. H. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bensen.

The village elections brought the entire enfranchised population into action on Monday. Husbands, wives, sons and daughters made supplication before Bobby for this privilege of liberty, while a few of the nondescripts volunteered to interpret the various and sundry wrinkles of the Village Act.

We believe the choice of the poll gives the town a good representation of business men of a progressive character. While the limitations of their powers are not extensive, there is no bounds on their idealism. If you want to have a good, clean, progressive town stand behind your councillors and uphold them in every moral issue.

The result of the poll was as follows:

J. H. Williamson, 54.
W. A. Teskey, 53.
Frank Brown, 51.
W. H. Smith, 29.
F. O. Cox, 14.
John M. Holo, 12.

Lot Hale, who owned a farm five miles east of Lomond, died yesterday morning at the home of his brother near Travers. Deceased left a couple of weeks ago to work in the B. C. lumber camps, but contracted the 'flu on his way there and was compelled to return home. On coming back he went to his own shack where no one knew of his condition and was there several days until the neighbors learning of his condition took him down to his brother's place, where pneumonia fatally developed within two days. The deceased has a sister in Lethbridge, Mrs. Geo. Shirly, well known to early settlers in the days of the Sweet Valley store and post office. Funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2:30. The burial in the Travers cemetery.

Real winter is with us this week—snow and frost fairly plentiful. If the wind would stay put there would be fair sleighing, but just now the roads are not fit for travel at all.

Mrs. John Patton went to Medicine Hat on Saturday to meet the family of six who had sailed from Scotland on the signing of the armistice. One child succumbed to an attack of influenza before the date of sailing. Mrs. N. Holden prepared a supper party to welcome them on arrival of the Tuesday evening train.

Mr. J. Williamson, having spent the summer here plastering, was already to start for his home at the coast on Wednesday morning when an attack of asthma made it necessary for him to stay over for a few days longer.

G. H. Ficht is away to Calgary for a few days.

The bathor lady apartments of the school staff was the scene of a small fire last week. Hot ashes on an old stable bottom led the fire into the coal shed. Timely assistance by the neighbors applied the necessary extinguishing elements.

No letter sack on the last train—this is three times since Nov. 1st. Here is a job for the Board of Trade, as well as to take up the matter of retaining the present train service after the end of the year.

The Kinnondale school board is holding a box social and dance in the Kinnondale Hall on the 18th., the proceeds to be applied on the organ fund.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Finley are sporting a new son this week.

Dad Cox took a round out of the city this week, recording also the whereabouts of George Ketchmark, Emery Davis and Billy Harper of Kinnondale.

Frank Brown is sending out a Medicine Hat steam laundry every Friday.

The efforts of the Lomond merchants on the Christmas decoration is well worthy of favorable comment.

Have you made your plum pudding yet?

The following additional contributions are acknowledged on the Carl Olson fire relief fund: Otto Holo $1.00, W.J. Clements $2.00, Geo. Hanlin $5.00, I. Magnuson $3.00.

A. C. McKay, representing the Department of Health, Edmonton, was met at Vulcan by H. E. Elves on Monday and driven through the north territory by W. H. Smith, to ascertain which way the people wanted to go. Needless to say, Lomond's contention was upheld against that of Bassano. The petitions in this territory are being heavily signed. Mr. McKay went to Taber from here.

J. R. McKay is out again after a week's illness.

NOTES

Irate electors from the Municipal District of Clifton assembled in Lomond on Monday under the impression that it was nomination day. These chaps were out for blood. They failed to realize any benefits from the municipal organization under the present rate of taxation. There was no crop and no money, and the municipal funds were all spent early in the summer when very few farmers would deign to relax on the wheat business, even for that twelve dollars a day. Some one has to be cussed, and of course the councillor is the goat most handy. But, be honest, boys, if you could have really foreseen the extent of the drouth would you not have been ready and willing to have worked on the roads and to have given a good honest day's labor for twelve dollars? You insist upon good roads, but under the present-day purchasing value of the Canadian dollar it takes a lot of taxes to make much of a showing. Do you really think that if you were to revert to the old order that the provincial department would spend more money on your roads than they collected from you in the taxes? Business is business? Give this thing a little honest consideration. Make up your mind that you are going to assist your councillor to obtain full value for his expenditure. You have been taught a good lesson, expensive it is true, but perhaps you will better appreciate the obligations incumbent upon you as a ratepayer.

THE PRESS notes with a good deal of self-satisfaction that Hon. Dr. Cody, the newly appointed minister of education in the Ontario cabinet, is advocating just such reforms in the present day public school system as we have ourselves persistently harped upon from time to time in the columns of this little paper. Not that we conceive of him being in any way influenced by our efforts, which, in all probability he never heard of; but that such a man, whose intelligence is above the high average, should concurrently base his conclusions on the same foundations as we ourselves. Our present system of public school education does not prepare a child for any separate channel of every day life. A boy leaves school at the "entrance" stage, say—ten to one he doesn't know how to make out a deposit slip at a bank, the relative values of a note and a draft, the value of bookkeeping to farming, or any other line of business for that matter, and a multitude of other general topics necessary in the humdrum of every day life. A brain-exerciser and wit-sharpener our "exam-craze" ideas are proven as obsolete as an 1890 dreadnaught. Cody starts in with the teacher's salary and sets a minimum of $1000 per year, and then he raises the standard of efficiency and training demanded of the teachers. He hopes to make the job remunerative enough to draw in a more constant line of brain-power and discipline. He sees that the great majority of schools are always in the hands of the "young lady" element who use the teaching profession as but a convenient avenue to matrimony. (We'll now have to square ourselves with the school ma'ams)—

Who is it when her race is done,
And all her stars are nobly won,
Deserves a crown that weighs a ton—
The School Ma'am.

It is the fault of we people, only we have depended too strongly upon our leaders of thought (and party politics) to keep us on a progressive pathway. They haven't done it. Just so long as we continue to educate our children under teachers to whom we pay less salary than to our common labor we can expect little or no improvement. What think you?

Persons interested enough to keep in touch with world politics cannot help but recognize the revolutionary tendency and taking re-action from moderate conservatism to ultra-democracy, even unto irrational radicalism. As one contemporary puts it, "a world-wide house cleaning." Intoxicated after a taste of power and authority, "labor" is insisting upon drastic demands and concessions. We must admit that there are abundant grounds for complaint. Under the present order "cap-tal" has too much control, where ability and brains without capital are practically the same as buried. Like the booze interests, the capitalists persist in abusing their privileges, and some of these fine times will be literally kicked out. People will put up with just so much for just such a given length of time. A mess becomes just so rotten when the decaying elements ferment. Now, you all know that fermentation "pops" the cork. Danger besets the path of the radical element in effecting this change that is bound to come. Unfortunately our present social system provides a real education only to those who have money of their own with which to buy it. The radical element will bear with no interference and the bulk of the real brains of the land will be kicked to one side to make room for inexperienced "know-it-alls." Time will bring adjustments, though.

Any political party in Canada that thinks it can bamboozle Western Canada farmers into placidly accepting a return of the protection which in pre-war days was afforded the grain and milling companies is openly inviting defeat. This spread in price between Minneapolis and Winnipeg, persistently in favor of the United States farmer, is one of the rotten spots in the history of Canadian administration. The farmer, though now but weakly organized, is already recognized as a factor demanding careful handling. What would be the result if the farmers would perfect their organizations to include the entire agricultural population of the Dominion?

Put your spare money into Canada War Savings Stamps. They pay good interest.

BADGER LAKE

A series of evangelistic meetings are being held in the First Chance school every evening, except Saturday, at 7:30 o'clock. A good interest is being manifested and on Sunday evening last a large congregation was present to hear the discourse given from the subject "The Nature of Man and the Condition of the Dead". A resume from the sermon by the evangelist is here given. "God only hath immortality— (1 Tim. 6:16). He is spoken of as being immortal (1 Tim. 1:17). In contrast we find man spoken of as mortal (Job 4:17). We are encouraged to seek for immortality by patient continuance in well-doing (Rom. 2:7). If we now have immortality why should we seek for it? Immortality, eternal life, is the gift of God, given only to the righteous, at the resurrection (1 Cor. 15:52-54). The wicked shall not see life but be destroyed in the second death. Man sleeps in the grave and are unconscious between death and the resurrection, so, man lieth down and riseth not till the heavens be no more. They shall not awake or be raised out of their sleep. They await their appointed time in the grave, until their change come. During this time their sons come to honor and they knoweth not; they are brought low but they perceive it not of them (Job 14:10-15:21). Their love, hatred and envy are perished and they knoweth not anything (Eccl. 9:4-6). There is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom in the grave, whither they go. Their change will come at the resurrection of the dead, at the sound of the last trump when our Lord shall come (1 Cor. 5:1-54). He shall change our vile body so, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body (Phil. 3:20-21). Jesus raised Lazarus, called him forth not from heaven or hell, or purgatory, but from the grave where he was sleeping (John 11:43-44). This is an example of how he will call forth all the sleeping saints from their graves when he comes again. If men are judged and rewarded at death, why a judgement day in the future? Jesus encouraged the people to call the poor, the halt and the lame their feasts and promised them that they would be recompensed at the resurrection of the just."

Agricultural Society Scores Provincial Police Work

The annual general meeting of the members of the Lomond Agricultural Society was held in the Lomond Realty Company office on Saturday afternoon with about twenty-five members present. Reports of the standing of the Society gave rise to the origination of a formula to be tried for the purpose of releasing the Society from a heavy financial obligation accumulated by the unfavorable circumstances attending the first two and the only years of operation. Rain and postponement the first year, with drought the next, gave the executive a pretty hard tussle to keep the organization in motion, but as all are agreed as to the ultimate value to the community, the members have co-ordinated themselves for the purpose of setting things to right. Expression was given to the splendid support already given by the business men of Lomond and of Travers as well so it was concluded that further support should be sought from the farmers themselves, for whom the society was organized to benefit. The directors are each to be given a subscription list and will solicit a pledge of so many bushels of wheat from each farmer, to be delivered next harvest, provided of course, there is a satisfactory yield.

Quite a lengthy discussion was given up to the consideration of the date on which the fair is to be held, but no definite conclusions were arrived at and it was eventually left to the discretion of the board of directors.

The inaction of the Provincial Police in neglecting to provide protection at the date of the fair after having been duly informed, which allowed such a disgraceful drunken rabble to take place as to seriously mar the success of the fair, was given a unanimous vote of censure and the secretary instructed to forward a copy of the resolution to the Attorney General's department at Edmonton.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, W. M. Armstrong.
Vice-Presidents, Wm. Burton and J. L. Rickett.

Directors: E. G. Haley, D. A. Wilkinson, T. Chapman, F. Newton, W. V. Baker, W. H. Smith, W. B. Manning, John Burton, J. R. McKay, J. Paisley, C. Dalton, Ed. Bannon.

Associate directors: Mrs. Wm. Burton, Mrs. J. L. Rickett, Mrs. C. R. Adams, Mrs. W. B. Manning, Mrs. E. G. Haley, Mrs. W. A. Teskey, Mrs. D. McAllister.
